Introduction:

The SeaTan Seminar, hosted by SFIT, provided an insightful opportunity for students to gain knowledge about maritime security and the role of the Indian Coast Guard. The seminar was conducted by a Deputy Commandant of the Indian Coast Guard along with his cadets, who shared detailed insights into their duties, responsibilities, and the operational framework of the Indian Coast Guard. This event aimed to educate and inspire students about careers in maritime security and national defense.

Event Schedule:

11:30 AM –

Opening Session

The seminar commenced with an introduction to the Indian Coast Guard, setting the foundation for an engaging and informative session.

Participants were introduced to the significance of maritime security, search and rescue operations, and environmental protection.

12:00 AM –

Keynote by Deputy Commandant of the Indian Coast Guard

The keynote session was led by the Deputy Commandant, who provided an in-depth overview of the Indian Coast Guard's role in safeguarding the nation's maritime interests. He highlighted key aspects such as coastal surveillance, anti-smuggling operations, and disaster response. His cadets also shared their experiences, shedding light on the rigorous training and life in the force.

1:00 PM –

Interactive Q&A Session

Following the keynote, an interactive Q&A session was held where attendees had the opportunity to ask questions regarding the Indian Coast Guard's operations, career prospects, and challenges faced in maritime security. The session provided students with a deeper understanding of the force's contributions and its importance in national defense.

Conclusion:

SeaTan was a highly successful seminar, offering students a rare opportunity to learn directly from members of the Indian Coast Guard. The event fostered awareness about maritime security and inspired students to explore potential careers in the field. Participants left with valuable insights into the workings of the Indian Coast Guard and a greater appreciation for their service to the nation.

Acknowledgement:

The SFIT administration and event organizing team extend their sincere gratitude to the Deputy Commandant and his cadets for their invaluable contribution to SeaTan. Their dedication and expertise made the seminar a highly impactful experience. Special thanks are also extended to all attendees for their enthusiastic participation, which contributed to the event's success.
